Is billable time slipping away when you call or email from your smart phone? If so, iSlips will capture it before it's gone for good. In fact, iSlips pays for itself in 1.5 hours. iSlips also works with iDocuments to track and record time spent while reading and editing documents remotely.

As iAIM™ streams data from your office database to your mobile device, iSlips updates its own matter, task, activity, and contact database. So as office data changes, so does your iSlips database.

iSlips also streams your time slips from your mobile device to your office timesheet and readies it for billing...all while you're out of the office.

Benefits

- Never lose another minute with iSlips
- Automatically create a time slip as you dial
- Automatically create a time slip as you email
- Sync with all your PerfectLaw® contacts
- Work offline when there is limited connectivity
- Eliminate the need to create and enter time retrospectively once returning to your office
- Create your firm's own enterprise workspace just like the big firms

Functions

- Dial and create a time slip automatically
- Email and create a time slip automatically
- Enter or edit time with validated client, matter, and activity codes
- Lookup activity codes, task codes, clients, and matters on your device while working on or offline
- Track your time on device with iSlips timers
- Send time slips to the time sheet in your office

iAIM™ is a suite of apps that includes iSlips, iDocs and iAIM communication services, a trademark of EDSi; iAIM™ communications adds technology to database servers that provide direct wireless connections between the PerfectLaw® databases and mobile devices using cloud technology.
